

CASE STUDY

UDIA QUEENSLAND 2022 AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE WILDCARD WINNER

GREATER SPRINGFIELD FESTIVAL OF LEARNING 2019 & 21

OBJECTIVES

The purpose of the Festival of Learning is to showcase and celebrate learning. The UDIA Queensland Awards for Excellence Wildcard Award was awarded to the Greater Springfield Festival of Learning in 2022 for an "outstanding project that deserves recognition".

CONTRIBUTION TO COMMUNITY

Aspiration and mobilizing opportunities to exhibit and deliver real outcomes. Community participation and pride is palpable and becomes self-sustaining.

Mobilise the community to engage, showcase and celebrate learning to a scale not seen before in urban development initiatives.

Exciting events hosted by different schools across the City on lego, drones and technology, literacy, song and dance. More than 600 educators in one room lowered the boundaries between schools, building the excitement of the collective.

HIGHLIGHTS

Engagement

A mission to showcase learning, lower boundaries, and achieve more together. Champion curiosity & discovery.

Sustainability

Students created solar powered battery backpacks. Students learnt the importance of collaboration and energy sustainability.

Innovation

The Learning Coalition consisting of schools – public and private, has not been seen before in Australia. A weeklong Festival of Learning is also a first of its kind in Australia.

AT A GLANCE

Collaborative engagement

- Community, staff, parent and student engagement
- Sponsorship
- Grass root school events ensuring strong ownership and belonging.

Performance Indicators

- Visibility
- Engagement
- Interaction
- Showcasing

"A learning city is an aspiration whereby life-long learning is expected and valued by the whole community; where learning can be seen and felt to flourish; opportunities and choices abound; and curiosity and discovery are championed."

Dr Richard Eden PSM

Chair, Festival of Learning Ltd

See more information at glearningcoalition.com.au